Our Lady of Joy Mission Statement

Our mission is to build a community of disciples through the Sacraments, prayer, acts of charity and the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church.

Our Lady of Joy Religious Education Philosophy

"The definitive aim of catechesis is to put people not only in touch, but also in communion and intimacy, with Jesus Christ. ' All evangelizing activity is understood as promoting communion with Jesus Christ. Starting with the 'initial' conversion of a person to the Lord, moved by the Holy Spirit through the primary proclamation of the Gospel, catechesis seeks to solidify and mature this first adherence. It proposes to help those who have just converted 'to know better this Jesus to whom he has entrusted himself: to know his mystery, the kingdom of God proclaimed by him, the requirements and comments contained in his Gospel message, and the paths that he has laid down for anyone who wishes to follow him.' " General Directory for Catechesis, 80

Our Lady of Joy religious education seeks to lead students to encounter Jesus Christ and make a personal decision to become His disciple, opening their heart to the Holy Spirit, and understanding their identity as children of our loving and provident Father.

As children encounter Christ and entrust their lives to Him, they are given catechesis to "solidify and mature this first adherence".

All of this takes place in partnership with parents, who the Church say are the primary educators of their children in the Faith. Therefore, we seek to communicate with parents for the purpose of encouraging and helping them to form their children gradually in the Catholic Faith. We seek also to reach parents who may not have encountered Christ or made that personal commitment to follow Him, in order to offer parents that all-important invitation.

We encourage and exhort children and their families to enter fully into the life of Christ and His Church, so as to have the abundant life that Jesus offers them. "I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly." Jn 10:10

We trust the Holy Spirit as the "principle agent of evangelization" (cf. Evangelii Nuntiandi, Pope Paul VI, #75) and believe in the primacy of grace, knowing that God always takes the initiative when it comes to our salvation, growth and fidelity to the Faith. We seek to discern the action of the Holy Spirit in each child and family, in order to adapt our teaching and methods to the needs of each, "seconding" (trying to follow) the action of grace.

Director's/Coordinator's Right to Amend

This Handbook is developed with the parish and staff and will be reviewed and revised, at least annually, in efforts to keep parents clearly informed of Diocesan and Religious education policies and procedures. It is the intent of Our Lady of Joy parish staff to abide by all Federal and State laws. The Director/Coordinator has the right to amend, at any time, this living document. Revisions that are made during the school year will be communicated as they are made to all parents, guardians, catechists, and staff members. The Handbook is a guide, but not necessarily an all-inclusive one. Situations may arise which are not specifically named or covered in the Handbook.

Parents/Guardians are responsible for maintaining custody of younger children, as well as Religious education children, at all times. For their safety, parents/guardians will see that all children obey the rules of the Religious education program and are supervised at all times.

Custodial Parents

Recognizing the educational needs of the children and the unique circumstances related to legal custodial situations, the following requirements have been established to assist all parties concerned.

In situations where a student's custody is legally defined, it is the responsibility of the custodial parent to provide the Religious education office with legal documentation stipulating all custody provisions (i.e. joint vs. sole custody.) If requested in advance, custodial parents may each receive separate copies of Religious education communication documents.

In situations where one parent has sole custody, the custodial parent shall provide the Religious education office with written and signed guidelines to be followed between the non-custodial parent and Our Lady of Joy Religious education program. These guidelines must be reviewed and updated annually prior to the first day of classes for each school year and will remain in effect until one of the following occurs: 1) the end of the Religious education year, 2) revised and/or updated in writing by the custodial parent, or 3) a written statement is received from the custodial parent revoking the guidelines.

Visitors on Campus

All parents or other visitors to the buildings used for Religious education must sign in and wear a visitor badge. All visitors to a classroom must have permission in advance from the teacher. Parents are welcome at any time to visit our programs. Because of the nature of Catechesis of the Good Shepherd (method we use for Kindergarten and 3 and 4 year olds), we ask that parents contact the catechist for information on observing an atrium (the sacred space prepared for the children) and to plan your visit with them in advance.

Volunteers

Our Lady of Joy Catholic Religious Education welcomes and relies upon volunteers to help provide quality religious education to our children. Our volunteers include parents, members of our area parishes, and members of the greater community. All volunteers must fulfill the safe environment guidelines and training through the Diocese of Phoenix. <http://safeenvironmenttraining.org/index.php>

Discipline

Student Discipline

Discipline at Our Lady of Joy Religious education program/Edge is to be considered as an aspect of moral guidance. The purposes of discipline are: to provide a classroom situation conducive to learning, to promote character training, to cultivate the virtues that ensure moral living and to redirect misguided behavior, and to develop self-discipline.

Our policy concerning unacceptable behavior, defined as a behavior that physically, emotionally, or verbally hurts another child or teacher, is to treat the child with respect and dignity while confronting him/her.

Student Conduct

Our Lady of Joy Catholic Religious education/Edge seeks to maintain an environment which is conducive to learning, protective of the safety and welfare of all students and staff, and free from unnecessary disruption.

- Students are expected to behave in such a way that their presence does not detract from their own education or the education of others.
- Students shall treat teachers, administrators, employees, volunteers, other campus visitors and fellow students with dignity and respect and shall behave in such a manner that their presence will contribute to a productive educational environment.

- No student shall engage in bullying behavior in the building where Religious education/Edge is conducted, on Our Lady of Joy grounds or at Our Lady of Joy activities or sanctioned events. Bullying is defined as any repeated written or verbal expression, or physical act or gesture, intended to cause distress upon one or more students in the preschool environment. The severity and pattern of the bullying behavior shall be taken into consideration when disciplinary decisions are made.

Any of the following actions may be taken depending on the severity and frequency of the behaviors:

- Teachers will treat each unacceptable behavior individually. A student may lose a classroom privilege or be asked to take some quiet time until they are ready to return to the classroom activity and make appropriate and respectful choices. The teacher is not required to notify the parents at this level.
- If the behavior is not modified after incorporating the above methods, the teacher will send written notice home describing the behavior.
- The teacher will contact the parent/guardian to describe the behavior and request a conference.
- The student will be sent to the Coordinator or Director, and the parents/guardians will be contacted and requested to pick up their child immediately.
- Unacceptable behavior will result in a conference with parents, teacher, Coordinator or Director, and/or Pastor to resolve the problem and create a plan of action or the student may be asked to withdraw from the program.

Parental Expectations

Parental support of the authority of teachers and Religious education/Edge staff members is expected to implement the discipline program successfully. All students are expected to follow the behaviors outlined in this handbook while on Our Lady of Joy grounds or while attending any Religious education/Edge sponsored functions. When clarification of a disciplinary action is necessary, the administration asks that the parent(s)/guardian(s) should first consult with the teacher, and if further clarification is needed please contact the Coordinator or Director.

Conflict Resolution Procedures

The staff at Our Lady of Joy Catholic Religious education is dedicated to the well-being and development of each of our students, and wants to work hand-in-hand with parents to provide a positive experience. However, human nature and emotion often dictate how we perceive certain situations, and there may come a time when a situation may become stressful or uncomfortable. In an attempt to keep lines of communication open and relationships moving in a forward and productive manner, we ask that parents/guardians adhere to the following procedures:

- When there is a concern, pertaining to the religious education classroom (K-5), contact the teacher to set up a meeting. The teacher may ask an aide or another teacher to also be present.
- If a solution cannot be found or the participants need additional assistance, the Coordinator or Director should be contacted.
- For Edge, the first point of contact should be the Coordinator of Youth Ministry.
- Situations that are not rectified to the satisfaction of those involved will then be brought to the Pastor.

Harassment and Bullying

Our Lady of Joy Catholic Religious education believes that all persons have a God-given right to be treated with dignity and respect. In light of this belief, any form of harassment by students, employees, parents and volunteers will not be tolerated.

The aim and goal of the Religious education harassment policy is as follows:

- To promote a Catholic educational environment in which harassment is not tolerated.
- To take positive action to prevent harassment from occurring through a well-communicated and clear policy.
- To inform students, parents, staff, of the Religious education program's expectations and to foster a productive partnership which helps maintain a positive church environment.

Harassment Defined

Harassment is unwanted, repeated, harmful behavior that is directed at an individual or group on the basis of race, sex, or national origin. It is about intimidation, control, misuse of power, and the attempt to deny the victim equality.

Harassment can occur any time during Religious education/Edge or during Religious education/Edge-related activities/events. Harassment can occur whether the intended victim is present or not. It includes, but is not limited to, any of the following:

- Verbal harassment
- Verbal conduct such as epithets, derogatory jokes or comments, slurs or unwanted sexual advances, imitations or comments
- Visual harassment
- Visual contact such as derogatory and/or sexually oriented posters, photography, cartoons, drawings or gestures
- Physical harassment
- Physical contact such as assault, unwanted touching, blocking normal movements or interfering with work, study or play
- Sexual harassment – threats and demands to submit to sexual requests for certain benefits, unwelcome sexual advances

Harassment can be blatant or subtle. General guidelines for determining whether actions constitute harassment include the severity, pervasiveness, or persistence of the behavior. Certain egregious behaviors need only to occur one time to be considered harassment.

The student is responsible for conducting himself/herself in a manner that fosters a positive church environment. He or she should refrain from behavior that may be considered discriminatory, intimidating or harassing. If a student has been warned of harassing behavior, he or she should cease the discriminatory, intimidating, harassing, or unwelcome behavior.

All allegations of harassment should be reported in writing directly to the Coordinator or Director. Allegations will be taken seriously and will be promptly investigated in a confidential manner. A charge of harassment does not in itself presuppose wrongdoing. Students found to have filed false and frivolous charges will also be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal. Our Lady of Joy Catholic Religious education/Edge strongly opposes and prohibits all forms of harassment (e.g. harassment based on an individual's race, color, age, religion, sex, marital or veteran status, sexual orientation, national origin, ancestry, and disability,) whether verbal, physical, or environmental. Any person who violates this policy will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including required withdrawal for students.
